ABOUT canxida

At CanXida, we are dedicated to improving the overall well-being of our customers through natural solutions for candida yeast overgrowth.

Our line of premium supplements is formulated with the highest quality ingredients, using decades of research and expertise. Our products have been known to effectively alleviate symptoms such as bloating, gas, diarrhea, constipation, abdominal pain, and other conditions caused by candida yeast overgrowth*. Our mission is to empower individuals to take control of their health and live their best lives.

Why Was CanXida Born... and Why Has It Made Such a Difference in the Lives of So Many People?

CanXida's inception is the culmination of nearly 30 years of dedicated clinical practice by one of our original cofounders, who played a key role in formulating our products. While he's no longer part of the CanXida team, his foundational work remains integral to our journey.

In 2000, after over a decade of practice, our cofounder began formulating various health products for different companies, including probiotics, gut health supplements, vitamin C, and omega-3 formulations. This initiative stemmed from his extensive use of a wide range of professional dietary supplements typically prescribed by naturopaths.

His early experiences in health food shops as a naturopathic student provided a solid foundation in utilizing retail dietary supplements. However, his aspiration was to develop a superior product range for his patients, a fusion of cutting-edge science and technology with the profound healing properties of nature.

He recognized that his patients needed more than lifestyle changes and dietary adjustments; they required highly effective products to expedite their recovery. Unfortunately, the market lacked such products. Most dietary supplements were designed by formulators detached from clinical experience, leading to inconsistent results among patients.

Determined to break this pattern, he focused on creating products that were not only clinically effective but also delivered consistent results. This approach included comprehensive testing methods, like repeated stool analyses, to scientifically validate the improvements.

His journey involved extensive testing of various dietary supplements, which often yielded underwhelming results. He realized that effective products had to be crafted by someone deeply committed to health improvement, with years of practical and technical experience.

The effectiveness of our products lies not just in the quality of ingredients but in the synergy they create. The formulation process is intricate, involving precise proportions and a deep understanding of each component, alongside an advanced manufacturing process to maximize the delivery of active ingredients.

Reaching the high level of effectiveness that CanXida users enjoy today was a formidable task. It required immense time, patience, and continuous refinement of our formulations. The result is a product range that has significantly improved the lives of tens of thousands worldwide.

Scientifically Rooted, Practically Proven: Our Formulation Philosophy

When crafting our supplements, we not only prioritize practical efficacy but also the wealth of real-world experience behind our formulations. Originally inspired by one of our former co-founders, a seasoned naturopath with over 30 years of experience, our approach is deeply rooted in extensive clinical practice. This co-founder didn't just bring a background of treating thousands of patients and conducting thousands of stool analyses, but also possessed a rich history of collaboration with some of the leading dietary supplement companies worldwide. His expertise in formulations, herbs, and natural remedies was integral in establishing our products' foundation, ensuring they are not only theoretically effective but also proven in real-life scenarios.

Rigorous Product Testing

While our manufacturer implements rigorous checks and balances to ensure product quality, our commitment to excellence doesn't end there. After production, we take the extra step of sending our products to an independent third-party laboratory, Eurofins, for an additional round of testing. This crucial process verifies the potency and purity of our products, ensuring they meet our high standards before we make them available for purchase.

Quality Uncompromised

Our products are proudly manufactured in a state-of-the-art facility in New York, which not only meets but also exceeds industry standards. The facility is GMP (Good Manufacturing Practices) certified, ensuring the highest level of quality and safety in our production processes. In addition to being GMP certified, our manufacturing site is an FDA-registered facility, demonstrating our adherence to stringent federal regulations and our commitment to high standards. As a member of the Natural Products Association, our manufacturer shares our dedication to delivering premium, natural health products. These certifications are a testament to our promise of excellence and trust in every product we offer.

THE SCIENCE BEHIND THE INGREDIENTS

CanXida Remove contains the following 12 active ingredients, each with research-backed properties supporting their role in the effective elimination of Candida infections:

Grapefruit Seed Extract (GSE): GSE has powerful antifungal properties and has been proven to effectively eliminate yeast by mitochondria-dependent apoptosis. GSE is also antibacterial; it disrupts bacterial cell membranes, causing them to burst*.

Berberine HCL: Berberine has natural, broad-spectrum antimicrobial properties and has been shown to act synergistically with antifungals and antibiotics, enhancing their inhibitory effects*.

Clove: Eugenol is an essential oil derived from clove that has been shown to disrupt the integrity of the cell wall of Candida albicans, rendering it an effective antifungal agent*.

Garlic: Garlic contains allicin, a well-researched, potent, antimicrobial agent that has been proven to effectively kill numerous strains of bacteria and yeast including Candida species*.

Caprylic Acid: Caprylic acid is a short-chain fatty acid, derived from coconut, that has been proven to perturb Candida membranes and inhibit growth*.

Undecylenic Acid: Another fatty acid, derived from castor bean, undecylenic acid has also proven effective against Candida albicans. Undecylenic acid is also known to work well in combination with caprylic acid*.

Betaine HCL: Betaine HCL lowers the pH in the duodenum and ileum, providing undecylenic acid with the optimal environment to exert its antifungal effects*.

Black Walnut Extract: Juglone is a tannin compound contained in black walnut that has been shown to effectively eliminate parasites and yeasts*.

Pau D'arco: Also known as tahebo, this South American tree bark extract is thought to have antifungal effects as well as potent anti-inflammatory properties*.

Neem: Neem leaf extracts have been shown to exert potent antifungal effects on a broad spectrum of Candida, Aspergillus and Microsporum yeast species*.

Biotin: Biotin is a cofactor that has been shown to regulate the morphology, and subsequent growth and spread, of Candida*.

CANXIDA RESTORE (FORMULA RST)

DIETARY SUPPLEMENT | 60 CAPSULES | MSRP: $59.99 USD

THE SCIENCE BEHIND THE INGREDIENTS

CanXida Restore (Formula RST) is a high-quality formula of 6 probiotics and 7 digestive enzymes designed to recolonise the gut, restoring normal function* after CanXida Remove (Formula RMV) treatment. CanXida Restore (Formula RST) contains the following 6 probiotic strains:

Lactobacillus Acidophilus: The most researched probiotic strain in the world and the ultimate defense against yeast, harmful bacteria and gut parasites. Lactobacillus acidophilus releases lactic acid, interfering with candida's metabolism and ensuring that candida, harmful bacteria, and parasites cannot reproduce*.

Lactobacillus Plantarum: A powerful probiotic that is naturally present in saliva. Lactobacillus plantarum prevents harmful bacteria from entering the digestive system, reduces blood sugar and strengthens intestinal permeability to tackle "leaky gut"*.

Lactobacillus Casei: Helps in the production of lactic acid and lowers pH levels in the digestive system. A low pH environment reduces yeast and harmful bacteria, whilst promoting beneficial bacteria and helps with leaky gut, helicobacter pylori infection and diarrhea*.

Lactobacillus Rhamnosus: A crucial probiotic for Candida infections. Lactobacillus rhamnosus survives in extremely acidic environments, where it has antitumor functions, prevents food allergies from leaky gut and inhibits the growth of harmful bacteria by stimulating antibody production*.

Bifidobacterium Bifidum: Stimulates the production of B vitamins and Vitamin K in the large intestine, which are essential for maintaining energy levels, mood, cognitive function, and the digestion of proteins and carbohydrates. Bifidobacterium bifidum inhibits the growth of harmful bacteria, prevents diarrhea, and reduces the risk of tumor development*.

Bifidobacterium Longum: One of the most important types of beneficial bacteria inhabiting the digestive tract. Bifidobacterium longum produces lactic acid, supporting the immune system, and balancing gut microbes*.

Amylase: Involved in the breakdown of carbohydrates (starch) to help reduce bloating, gas, and abdominal pain*.

Cellulase: Reduces bloating and discomfort when transitioning to an anti-candida diet by aiding with the breakdown of fiber*.

Glucoamylase: Involved in the breakdown of starches found in vegetables and grains (brown rice, quinoa, buckwheat). May aid in the tolerability of these food types*.

Hemicellulase: Increases the bulk of stools to help with constipation and the regulation of bowel movements by aiding in the breakdown of carbohydrates and fiber from plants*.

Invertase: Aids in the breakdown and absorption of sugars, which has anti-aging and physical rejuvenation benefits*.

Protease: Involved in the breakdown of protein, aiding in the digestion of meat, eggs, fish and vegetable proteins found in nuts, seeds, and legumes*.

Serratiopeptidase: Binds to immune complexes (toxins) in blood to break down debris created by yeast and bacteria. Serratiopeptidase is particularly effective at tackling leaky gut and auto-immune diseases and is not included in many other probiotic formulas*.

SAFETY PROFILE

Essential vitamins and minerals are typically well absorbed and tolerated as they are required for normal physiological function, making them a perfect part of holistic health regimens. Extreme overdose or accumulation of these micronutrients due to specific health conditions can cause health issues, however. Careful management of vitamin supplementation is essential in older adults as they are susceptible to deficiencies but may be prone to toxic vitamin accumulation. Individuals with specific health conditions or those taking certain medications should consult a healthcare provider before use.

MECHANISM OF ACTION

CanXida ReCharge's (Formula RCH) diverse ingredients, which include protein extracts, herbal extracts, and essential vitamins and minerals, means it has a wide range of health benefits through distinct mechanisms.

CanXida ReCharge (Formula RCH) gives diverse benefits and can help a diverse range of people achieve lasting health and goal fulfillment. The formulation mixes easily with water, without the need for a blender, and can be taken on the go and alongside other medicines.

GUT HEALTH: Ginger root powder enhances T-cell function and offers antifungal and anti-inflammatory benefits, helping alleviate digestive issues. Larix laricina Heartwood Extract provides high-quality fiber and cellulose, which act as prebiotics for healthy gut microbes, helping to maintain gut balance. Pantothenic acid promotes barrier function in the gut by strengthening the immune system.

IMMUNE & LIVER SUPPORT: CanXida ReCharge's (Formula RCH) contains 21 vitamins and minerals that are important for immune and liver function. Tocotrienols complex powder (Vitamin E) is important for immune function, particularly for allowing immune cells to communicate with each other. It also plays a protective role in the liver, specifically against the damage caused by high-sugar high-fat diets. Calcium is important for liver regeneration and for activation of immune cells required for fast immune responses. Herbal extracts in CanXida ReCharge's (Formula RCH), such as ellagic acid and milk thistle extract, also have detoxifying and protective effects on the liver. This unique combination of ingredients is the perfect complement to an active lifestyle and helps to maintain overall health.

MENTAL HEALTH AND COGNITION: CanXida ReCharge (Formula RCH) includes choline, glycine, and Matcha Green Tea Leaf Powder which help support brain function. Choline is essential for cognitive health and is a central component of the neurotransmitter acetylcholine. Glycine is an inhibitory neurotransmitter and has emerged as a promising target for mental health therapies. Glycine may improve memory and other cognitive functions⁷.

Matcha Green Tea Leaf Powder, with its natural caffeine content, promotes alertness and concentration, while its rich antioxidant properties further protect the brain and improve mental endurance, making it an invaluable asset for maintaining cognitive health and performance.

ENERGY AND METABOLISM: CanXida ReCharge's (Formula RCH) unique ingredients target metabolism, insulin resistance, and energy enhancement. Vitamin C and Vitamin D play pivotal roles in metabolic processes, with Vitamin D specifically noted for reducing insulin resistance and aiding in weight management. The medium-chain triglycerides in CanXida ReCharge (Formula RCH) offer a quick energy source, bypassing the normal digestion process to provide rapid fuel without spiking blood glucose. Tocotrienols, a form of Vitamin E, support cardiovascular health and may influence metabolic rates. Together, these ingredients (and many others) contribute to improved metabolic health, offering support against insulin resistance and boosting energy levels safely and efficiently.

My chiropractor recommended Canxida and I had a thorough look into the brand. The selling point for me was how much information they were giving to the consumers. I could easily find the answers to all of my questions. It's very clear that they truly actually want people to get better and aren't in this for the money. Which is unfortunately a rare find these days*."

30 YEARS OF ITCHY SKIN GONE! "I have been suffering from increasingly itchy skin for over 30 years which began with the pregnancy of my first child. Doctors, midwives, holistic practitioners, everyone I consulted with on the problem brushed it off and suggested topical remedies. It had become unbearable, and by chance or miracle, I came across your quiz on social media. After reading some of the testimonials, watching some of your excellent videos, and getting the results from the quiz, I was certain I had found the problem. It made perfect sense. I immediately purchased and began with the CanXida Remove + Restore and within a few weeks I noticed a marked difference, and now two months into the protocol, I am nearly itch-free. I also noticed that the inflammation in my joints has diminished quite a bit, and I have far less bloating in my abdomen. I have since committed to continuing with the Remove + Restore + Rebuild and expect to follow the regimen as long as it takes. I know I will ultimately feel healthier and overall, much more happy in my body. Thank you for all of your informative videos and articles*."

- Teri. San Marcos, California

TOENAIL INFECTION CLEARED! "I noticed the small things first... (I only bought one jar to see if it agreed with me I'm waiting for my next shipment to arrive) but with only one jar my brain fog cleared and the infection on my toenails cleared I'm so impressed...I still have my recurring thrush but I didn't change my diet! When my lot comes I intend to go all out to get rid of this once and for all*!"

- K. United Kingdom

OVER 10 YEARS OF RECURRING YEAST INFECTIONS GONE! "Absolutely changed my life. I got rid of my yeast infection for good. It had been recurring for over a decade. I finally have relief. My entire body is healthier. My oral health, gut health, foot health have all cleared. I also got rid of dry skin. I will forever be grateful. After dealing with these symptoms for decades, my results so far are encouraging, even after a short period of time. I've told my sister about my experience and she is looking into these protocols as well. Thanks*!"

- Lisa. Utah

BEST I'VE BEEN SINCE I GOT ILL! "I've suffered from parasites for three years. I now have anxiety as well. I'm the best I've been since I got ill. What are the known side effects, if any, of your products?

At CanXida, we take pride in offering a range of products formulated with natural herbs and vitamins, designed to support the health and well-being of our clients. Our commitment to natural ingredients means that our products are generally well tolerated by most individuals. However, like with any health supplement, there can be some side effects, though they are rare and usually mild.

In a few instances, users have reported experiencing an upset stomach, which is often a temporary reaction as the body adjusts to the new supplement. Additionally, some individuals may notice a 'die-off' effect. This occurs when there is a rapid elimination of pathogens in the body, leading to a temporary increase in symptoms, but this is a sign of the product's effectiveness in cleansing the system. Lastly, the appearance of a rash has been noted in very rare cases. It's important to note that these side effects are not common and tend to be mild.

Is there an option for automatic recurring orders to ensure continuous supply?

Yes.

Do you offer a treatment protocol?

Yes. We provide a lot of educational material to practitioners.

How quickly can patients expect to see results?

The timeline for seeing results from natural supplements, like those offered by us at CanXida, can vary significantly depending on several factors. These include the patient's history, the severity of their chronic disorder, adherence to dietary and lifestyle changes, and any other health issues they may have. In our experience, it generally takes about 2-3 months of consistent treatment to begin noticing significant improvements. However, it's important to follow this with a re-evaluation period, typically a month, to assess progress and decide if continued treatment and dietary management are necessary for another 3 months.

It's crucial to set realistic expectations. Most individuals seeking relief from chronic health issues have likely been dealing with these conditions for an extended period, and they may also have other health complications. Therefore, while many patients do experience noticeable improvements within a few months, the journey to optimal health can be gradual and requires patience, discipline in following the prescribed regimen, and a comprehensive approach that addresses diet, lifestyle, and supplement use. Remember, each individual's response to treatment can be unique, and what works for one person might vary for another.

Do customers have to go on a special diet?

While our CanXida products can be highly beneficial, diet and lifestyle play a major role in achieving optimal health outcomes. Therefore, it's recommended that customers follow a balanced and suitable diet in conjunction with using our products. This holistic approach enhances the effectiveness of the supplements and supports overall well-being.

However, it's important to note that one of our products, CanXida Remove, contains Walnut Hull Extract. While this ingredient is selected for its beneficial properties, it may be an allergen for those with nut allergies. We advise customers with nut allergies to consult their healthcare practitioner before using CanXida Remove.

For all other products in our range, we strive to use ingredients that minimize the risk of allergic reactions. Nonetheless, we always recommend that our clients review the product ingredients listed on our website or packaging to ensure they are not sensitive to any of the components.

Why are certain ingredients not included in your CanXida formulas, despite its known benefits against candida and for gut health?

Our approach at CanXida to formula creation is deeply rooted in extensive research and past clinical experience. Over the years, our team, including one of our former co-founders, rigorously tested hundreds of herbs and supplements. This extensive research and testing in the past allowed us to determine which ingredients work best in harmony for effective results against candida and for gut health. The decision to not include certain ingredients in our formulas stems from this historical clinical knowledge and our understanding of how different ingredients synergize.

For a more comprehensive understanding of our formulation process and the reasons behind excluding certain popular ingredients, we encourage you to view our in-depth video presentation titled: "Why Are Certain Ingredients Not Included in CanXida - 31 Candida Supplement Ingredients Compared".
